

Writing the Memoir

June 20 and 27, 2009 Sat | 9 am to 4 pm | $110
Waimea Community Education
65-1184 Mamalahoa Hwy | Kamuela, HI 96743

"The class was wonderful. Thank you!"

"Fabulous!"

"My writing improved in just two days."

"I loved this class!"

If you've ever thought about writing your memoirs or sharing the stories of your life, this two-day memoir writing intensive is for you.

Whether writing for yourself or for others, you'll learn the ins and outs of writing this popular form of personal narrative. In-class guided writing exercises and feedback will help you generate memorable prose. You'll learn about voice, pacing, scene-setting, character development, details and descriptions. You'll leave with lots of writing and plenty of ideas and techniques on how to craft and organize your work. This is also an excellent class for fiction authors who are looking to develop the details and motivations of their characters or narrator.

Space is limited. Offered through Waimea Community Education. To register, please call 885-1539.

miaking.com

waimeaeducation.com

National bestselling author Darien Gee writes contemporary women's fiction under the pen name Mia King. Her most recent novel, Sweet Life (Berkley/Penguin), is a Doubleday, Literary Guild, and Book of the Month Club featured pick. Darien has served on the boards of ZYZZYVA, a prominent literary journal, and the San Francisco Public Library. She taught creative writing workshops for over 15 years in California and Hawaii and has helped aspiring and seasoned writers craft their work. She has studied with Judith Barrington, expert memoirist and author of Writing the Memoir: From Truth to Art.

